Home and jobs lost after arson attacks

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A FAMILY has been left without a home and two taxi drivers without a job after three arson attacks in 20 minutes ravaged through Eaglestone in the early hours of Monday morning.

The incidents took place during a 21-minute period, beginning at 1.44am in Montagu Drive when a commercial flatback vehicle was set alight.

The second attack took place at Abbotsfield at 1.51am and it left Shijlmol Thomas, her husband and three children without a home as the heat from the burning car damaged one side of their house.

The family are currently staying at a nearby neighbour's house.

The nurse from Milton Keynes University Hospital was woken by neighbours banging on her door and said she is now afraid to return to her home.

"My husband is away and when I woke up I thought it was some kids knocking on my door," she said.

"But I then saw the flames and knew I had to get my kids out of the house. The two older kids understood what was going on and are upset. I'm now scared to sleep in the house because you don't know what is going to happen."

Mohammed Sulfikar, 47, who owned the Skyline taxi that was set on fire next to Mrs Thomas' property is now without a car and is unable to work while he waits for his insurance company to provide a courtesy car.

Devastation: Azhar Hussain next to the remains of his car, one of three vehicles set alight in Eaglestone

The father-of-three said: "My family are frustrated but happy I wasn't harmed.

"I have already had my parents in Sri Lanka phone, they thought it was a riot when they heard about the amount of cars involved."

Azhar Hussain, 44, of Osprey Close, is an executive driver for Skyline Taxis and was the victim of the last attack when his Mercedes he bought last month for £26,000 was set alight at 2.05am. He said: "It leaves me without a job at the moment."

Mr Hussain's wife, Rukhfana, 41, whose car was parked next to the taxi, may have had her Audi written off due to the heat from the blaze melting it.

She said: "I can't feel safe at the moment, it made me think do people have a problem with me? Would they set fire to our house next?"

Crew Commander Chris Bamford from Bletchley Fire Station said: "As well as being a drain on emergency service resources, these deliberate fires can put lives at risk if they spread to adjoining houses or properties.

"They can also blight the neighbourhoods they happen in."

Police have launched an investigation and anybody who has witnessed the incidents should call officers on 101.

Company fined £185,000 over worker's injury

A LOGISTICS firm has been fined £185,000 after a warehouse worker was hurt driving a faulty picker truck.

Kuehne + Nagel was ordered at Aylesbury Crown Court on Friday to pay more than £200,000.

The company, based in Snelshall West, Milton Keynes, pleaded guilty and was fined £185,000, for one breach under Sections 2 and 33 of the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974. The firm was also ordered to pay Milton Keynes Council's costs of £25,500.

The court was told how on September 18, 2012, employee Robert Hayes was thrown from the low-level order picker when its steering malfunctioned.

His right foot became trapped underneath it, fracturing three bones.

An investigation by Milton Keynes Council's environmental health officers found the vehicle had been reported as defective on September 12 but had not been repaired.

The inspectors visited on October 12 and found no action had been taken to address the failings. It was discovered that management had been advised of failings by staff but the company failed to heed these warnings.

In his sentencing summary of the case, Judge Sheridan stated he 'found serious failures of senior managers who ought to have recognised ongoing problems'. He concluded the company 'fell well below the reasonably practicable test' and it was 'not just reasonably foreseeable but a nightmare waiting to happen'.

Failings included breaches of general and mandatory health and safety provisions and a systematic failure to provide a safe system of work.

Quick thinking: Ali Vernon-Staig outside the One Shop in Giffard Park

Pensioner shut robber inside shop

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A 67-YEAR-OLD man was determined not to let an armed robber out of a shop after he stopped him getting beer and cigarettes.

Ali Vernon-Staig, from Blakelands, said instinct kicked in when he got two members of staff out of the One Stop store in Giffard Park and pulled the shutter down on a robber who had a knife.

Mr Vernon-Staig, who is retired, told MK NEWS he pulled up to the shop in his car last Wednesday night to get cigarettes and a couple of beers when he saw something going on.

As he went into the shop he could see the drama unfolding and told the two members of staff, a man and woman, to get out.

Once they had left he managed to pull the shutter down enough to trap the man inside and used a broom to wedge the door shut.

He said: "I was determined to not let this man out. I thought 'you have stopped me getting my cigarettes and beer, so you are staying in there'.

"It felt good to help. I didn't want him to have the chance to do this again or for anyone to get hurt as he had a knife. It was quite exciting and was a buzz and when the police came and caught him I thought 'job done!'

"My wife was a bit worried for me but all my friends and family praised my bravery, but it was instinct."

James Standen, 35, of Campion, Great Linford, has been charged with one count of robbery and one count of possession of a knife blade or sharp pointed article in a public place. After appearing at Milton Keynes Magistrates' Court on Friday he is set to appear at Aylesbury Crown Court in June.

A second man from Milton Keynes, aged 34, arrested in connection with the incident has been bailed until June 12.

School's finance chief took £120k

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

Jailed: Kathryn Nethersole, inset, leaving court yesterday

THE head of finance at a city school siphoned off £120,000 from its bank account to fund her love of designer clothes and handbags, a court was told yesterday.

Kathryn Nethersole took the cash from Two Mile Ash School because she could not adjust to a huge drop in income when she split up with her partner of 18 years and father of her three children, a judge was told.

The 37-year-old targeted the top-performing school because its academy status would give her free reign over its finances.

She began funnelling money out of its bank accounts just two months after taking up her post in 2011, constructing a web of lies which allowed her fraud to go undetected for three years.

She then blew the cash on luxuries including designer handbags, shoes and exotic holidays and drove an expensive M-Class Mercedes 4x4.

The light-fingered mother was caught in the summer of 2014 when it was noticed that she had paid a £5,000 cheque into her own account, but had listed a different payee on the school records.

She has been jailed for 26 months and Recorder Andrew Wright said: "These offences are so serious that the custody threshold is passed by a country mile. This was a gross and persistent breach of trust."

The court was told her crimes have had a devastating impact on the school's reputation and left it unable to bid for about £150,000 of government funding.

In a statement read to the court, headteacher Sarah Bennett said it was the school's more than 600 pupils and 150 staff who were the real victims of Nethersole's deception.

She said: "I have been left devastated. The defendant was a hugely trusted member of my senior team.

"She deliberately misled me when presenting budgets. The school was left financially vulnerable meaning that jobs were vulnerable."

Defending her, James Juggapah said that Nethersole, who pleaded guilty to six counts of fraud, was full of remorse for what she had done and that she had paid all of the money back.

He added: "She found that the pressure of the job itself and the breakdown of her relationship led her to take such steps which she can only describe as foolish and stupid."

Chairman of governors Marilyn Hubbard told MK NEWS: "This case has been very trying and at times exhausting, however, we were determined to bring the matter to justice."

Detective Constable Paddy Navin said: "Money intended for the education of the school's children was diverted for Nethersole's personal gain and police are committed in protecting the most vulnerable."

Thug jailed for 'horrific' attack

A 23-YEAR-OLD man has been jailed for four years for an assault and threatening to kill a woman.

David Fitzgerald, of no fixed abode, was sentenced on Tuesday, May 12 at Aylesbury Crown Court after pleading guilty at the same court to one count of making threats to kill and another of assault causing ABH on Tuesday, April 7.

He was sentenced to four years' imprisonment for the threats to kill and three years and four months' imprisonment for the assault. The sentences will run concurrently.

At around 10pm on Tuesday, March 10, Fitzgerald called at a flat in Whaddon Way, Bletchley.

While inside he attacked the victim, a 24-year-old woman. He grabbed her face, put one finger in her eye and dragged her towards the bed, causing her eye to sting and 'feel like it was going to pop out'.

He then punched her in the jaw and she fell backwards onto her bed. Fitzgerald then climbed on top of her and punched her in the face, stomach and groin. He covered her mouth to stop her screaming. He held her nose while pouring water in her mouth and said to her 'I'm going to suffocate you'.

He pulled a knife from his pocket, put it to her throat and made more threats to kill her and then threatened to burn her with a lighter before threatening to kill her family.

The victim suffered cuts and bruising to her arm, face, neck and body.

Investigating officer, Det Con Sarah Danzelman of the Domestic Abuse Investigation Unit, said: "This was a horrific premeditated crime where the victim was assaulted and threatened in her own home.

"She genuinely feared for her life which is what was intended and I believe the sentence given by the judge reflects this."

What did I say yes to?

I AM glad to discover that I am not alone in understanding why I voted 'yes' for the CMK Neighbourhood Plan.

In a rush I had it explained to me that the alternative, the previous plan, would be worse.

However, upon reflection, the new Neighbourhood Plan has considerable weaknesses.

For example, it does not address a need to enlarge the CMK retail space, despite a growing city size.

Next, there is no challenge to the car dominance in the city centre. While paragraph 7.33 of the plan raises the issue of 'parking management as a tool that can and must be utilised to promote a shift to more sustainable modes of transport', the document ducks suggesting a way forward.

There is no discussion about current/future transport modal splits and, of course, no mention of, until recently, Milton Keynes Council's sustainable transport strategy.

Finally, the Neighbourhood Plan proposes an additional 5,000 CMK dwellings over the next 15 years and with the existing 2,000 this would give a future total of 7,000 dwellings.

But, with currently 30,000 CMK jobs and these rising to around 45,000, why not have a rough equivalent number of dwellings/flats so that, theoretically, everyone working at CMK could potentially also live here?

This would give us a true busy, vibrant, more successful city centre.

I come to the conclusion that there is a huge lack of imagination and ambition attending the whole MK planning process.

It is time for our city councillors to wake-up, produce some ideas and give leadership to our community. I get the strong impression that the council's cabinet is simply not engaged – city growth was not even on the agenda of the recent local elections. That says it all!

Lower cost of spaces

IN THE last five years, Milton Keynes Council has taken (not earned) more than £50million from parking charges.

This astronomical amount does nothing more than stifle our local economy and steal income from workers.

If I had the opportunity, I would scrap all charges, or lower them, so that they merely cover the cost of traffic management.

About 20p per hour anywhere in CMK would probably do it.

No-one ever says our bus service has got better with all of this income.

The council will not tell us how much the contractor, Vinci, receives from us.

It has no doubt been millions... probably £49million!

Alderman Paul Bartlett
Stony Stratford

Ways to beat bus cuts

I SYMPATHISE with Noreen Borrill about the number 4 bus changes (MK NEWS, May 13).

If it is true that the other service was under used there needs to be evidence to support it. I would suggest she contacts MKBUG. I would also suggest she contacts a car user with whom she could share petrol expenses to the city centre to catch her bus.

Jon Brett's City Life

His column written exclusively for MK NEWS

Will parking charge rise put brakes on visitors?

COULD we be witnessing the beginning of the end of Central Milton Keynes?

Where once parking was free – to encourage shoppers to what was Europe's largest shopping centre when it opened in 1979 – it can now cost you up to £10 a day.

Okay, if you're popping to the shops you're unlikely to pay for a day's parking, but if you're unfortunate enough to work in the city, the new parking charges will seriously affect your pocket.

Scratch cards are available, but these have rocketed in price and there's a hotch potch of additional free, three-hour spaces, if you know where to find them.

Out-of-town shopping has never seemed so attractive, with free parking at the new MK1 development bursting at the seams most weekends and a virtual no-go area during match days due to the increased traffic.

News of the increase in charges comes at a time when intu, formerly known as Midsummer Place, submits its plans for expansion to Milton Keynes Council.

There's a fine line between encouraging growth in the centre of Milton Keynes, but then at the same time whacking up parking charges which could possibly have the opposite effect.

Seems like something of a gamble.

Free parking on bank holidays is now also a thing of the past.

I'm all for seeing improvements to Central Milton Keynes – it was this column that first highlighted the shocking decline of the Theatre District and Lloyds Court, but my fear is that high parking charges may discourage people from visiting the city centre.

Buses aren't always a practical option and there's nothing more depressing than an empty shopping centre.

To find out what residents and workers think of the new parking charges, turn to page 16

Police presence outside the property in Beanhill where arrests were made and a body was found

Inquest to open after body found

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

THE inquest into the death of a man found in Beanhill is due to open on Friday at Milton Keynes Coroner's Court.

The body of the man, believed to be in his 40s, was found in a property in Nepland following two arrests at about 6pm on Saturday.

The police surrounded the property at 3pm and a helicopter was scrambled after intelligence was received that wanted criminals were inside.

A police spokesman said: "His death is being treated as unexplained but is not thought to be suspicious at this time. His next of kin has been informed and our thoughts are with the family.

"The arrests made earlier in the afternoon were not made in connection with the man's death.

"The incident has been referred to the Independent Police Complaints Commission as a matter of course, due to the presence of police at the property at the time the man's body was discovered."

A 55-year-old man from Milton Keynes was arrested at the property on suspicion of possessing a firearm but has been released on bail until July 5. A 22-year-old man, also from Milton Keynes, was arrested on suspicion of burglary and theft at the scene and has been bailed until June 5.

Police remained at the house for most of the weekend to reassure residents after there were rumours the incident involved a hostage.

MK NEWS spoke to those living nearby and one resident, who did want to be named, said: "I was told someone was hiding in the loft space."

Anyone with information can call police on 101.

The victim had become involved in an altercation between two groups of men in Revolution Vodka Bar, in Marlborough Gate. One man threw a glass, which hit the victim, causing cuts to her head which required stitches at Milton Keynes University Hospital.

Injured: Stray dog Bruce was found in Oldbrook with his ears clipped and with serious cuts

Bruce 'could have been fighting dog'

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

THE RSPCA is appealing for information after a dog with serious injuries was found straying in Oldbrook.

The black, male dog, thought to be around 18 months old, was found on Saturday, May 9.

The dog – who has been named Bruce – is believed to be a mastiff type and has had his ears clipped, an illegal process where dogs ears are mutilated to make them smaller.

The woman who found him took Bruce home before calling the RSPCA.

The charity's inspector Susan Haywood visited Bruce on Sunday. He was taken to a vet and given antibiotics and is now in the care of the RSPCA.

MK NEWS readers were shocked by the pictures of Bruce on our Facebook page.

Graham Corgan wrote: "Sadly the mistreatment of dogs is far too common here in Milton Keynes.

"I wish this one a speedy recovery and success in finding a home with decent people, not the vile creatures that treated him this way."

Susan added: "We don't know who the owner is as Bruce is not microchipped

"We would really like anyone to come forward with information about him. It seems Bruce has fairly recently cropped ears and has both old and new cuts and scars on his face and body, which we believe could have been caused by dog fighting.

"I don't think he would have been stray for very long as he appears to be a healthy weight.

"If anyone has information regarding Bruce then they can call our inspectorate line on 0300 123 8018."

One of the offenders is white, aged in his late 30s to early 40s, 5ft 9ins, medium build, with brown hair. He was wearing a blue top or blue jacket.

The second offender is white, aged in his late 20s to early 30s, between 5ft 11ins and 6ft, slim with short blond hair. Contact officers on 101.

Improve a city underpass

A CITY underpass could get a facelift to make it feel safer as part of a joint campaign between MK NEWS and Milton Keynes Council.

One of the first schemes of our Walk Safe campaign will be to identify a problem underpass and improve its appearance and make it feel safer.

Air exhibition takes flight at museum

AN AIR traffic control gallery has opened at The National Museum of Computing.

It features interactive exhibits highlighting the past, present and future of air traffic control.

Sponsored by NATS, the UK's leading air traffic management company, the setting of the gallery in the museum has particular historic resonance because Bletchley Park, where it is located, was previously home to the company's engineering training college. Investigation into rape claim ended

BY JESSICAN DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

AFTER a 'thorough investigation', police have found that no offence took place following an allegation of rape made by a 17-year-old girl.

As reported in last week's MK NEWS, the rape was alleged to have taken place in a city centre car park near a shopping centre on Sunday, May 10. The investigation has now been discontinued.

Det Insp Ian Jarvis, from Milton Keynes Force CID, said: "Officers have conducted a thorough investigation into this allegation and there is clear evidence that no offences took place.

"The complainant is being supported and I would like to stress no one should hesitate in coming forward if they have been a victim of crime of any sort. The Force will support victims and witnesses throughout investigations in an attempt to prosecute offenders. Thames Valley Police takes all reports of this nature extremely seriously and will always conduct a thorough investigation.

"The support of the media and members of the public during this investigation has been much appreciated and I thank them for their part in appealing for witnesses and sharing the information about this reported offence."

Danger zone: Cars queue to turn right in Grafton Street into Oldbrook Boulevard

Right turn ban on V6

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

AN EXPERIMENT banning cars from turning right on a grid road will begin tomorrow.

Milton Keynes Council has been looking into the issue of turning right on grid roads as part of its road safety review following several deaths on the city's unique roads in the past few years. There have also been a number of accidents on 'turn right' junctions across the city, including a three-car crash in Hodge Lea in May 2014.

But the council says this temporary ban isn't anything to do with the road safety review and is instead part of a casualty reduction scheme.

The experiment will take place on the V6 Grafton Street and is expected to last for 18 months.

Several accidents have taken place on this area of the road, including one just last month, while Hooda Nahdi, 47, of Holborn Crescent, Tattenhoe, died after the Ford Focus she was a passenger in was in collision with a DAF box van while turning right at the junction in 2014.

Drivers will not be allowed to turn right from the north-bound carriageway of the V6 onto the eastbound carriage-way of Oldbrook Boulevard, Oldbrook. They will also be prohibited from turning right onto the westbound carriage-way of Cairngorm Gate, Winterhill, from the same road.

What you said

David Lomas: "This ban seems to only apply to vehicles turning right OFF of the dual carriageway, it should also apply to people turning right ONTO the dual carriageway. I've lost count of the number of idiots who've turned right into the fast lane of the dual carriageway and almost caused a crash."

Cheryl Norris: "...onto duel carriageways, YES!"

Ben Perrott: "About time they did this."

Stacey Eggleton: "It's unfortunate people have died on these roads but at the same time it's the bad judgement decisions made by drivers and not the road itself that causes these accidents."

Samantha Swain: "There is always going to be cases of bad judgement, every single person on the road will misjudge something sometime. The whole grid should be no right turn, especially allowing for the speed limits on them particularly the dual carriageway ones. It's not going to kill anyone to drive and eighth of a mile and go round the roundabout."

Attack on girl, 16, at bus stop

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A 16-YEAR-OLD girl was attacked by a man at a bus stop near Stantonbury.

The teenager was at the bus stop near Marlborough Roundabout, Saxon Street, when she was approached by a man. He asked for her phone and purse and, when she refused to hand them over, he pushed to the ground.

After a struggle, the offender ran away without taking any of the items.

The suspect is described as white, in his early 20s, about 5ft 5ins, of slim build, with very short, shaved hair. He was wearing a grey Lonsdale hooded top and grey jogging bottoms.

The victim was not injured during the incident.

The girl's mother took to social networking site Facebook on the day of the attack, which happened at about 3.10pm on Wednesday last week.

She said her daughter 'fought back and managed to keep hold of her possessions despite him dragging her by her hair and stamping on her back'.

She added: "This happened at the magic roundabout near Stantonbury Campus. If anyone saw anything please can you contact the police."

Anyone with information can call the Thames Valley Police 24-hour enquiry line on 101, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Tony's walk in memory of Levi

TONY Laight is taking on an epic challenge in memory of his stepson Levi Henson.

The 30-year-old from New Bradwell admits he hasn't done any training and isn't the fittest but, after being inspired by Levi's bravery, he is determined to complete it.

Tony will join his uncle Simon Holland and his wife Sarah to take on The Welsh 3000s – 15 mountains in Snowdonia, all over 3,000ft high. The trio aim to do it in 24 hours.

Levi had osteosarcoma, an aggressive bone cancer. Despite months of chemotherapy, the Manchester United fan lost his battle in January 2014.

Tony said: "Levi is my inspiration, he never let his head drop and was always smiling. Simon took me and Levi to our special tour of Old Traford and to meet Levi's idol Ryan Giggs. He has been one of the rocks."

Tony is raising money for CLIC Sargent, a cancer charity for children.

Snakes in Tattenhoe park grass

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A POTENTIAL sighting of an adder's nest in Tattenhoe Valley Park caused a ssstir over the weekend.

Milton Keynes Veterinary Group warned dog owners on its Facebook page following the potential sighting, but Martin Kincaid, biodiversity officer at The Parks Trust, says it is more likely to be a colony of grass snakes.

In the UK, adders are the only venomous snakes found in the wild and in 2011 there were two cases in the UK when dogs were bitten and died.

Tattenhoe Valley Park is well known to be home to a grass snake colony and, although they can bite if they feel threatened, it is not lethal.

Mr Kincaid said: "We are unaware of an adder's nest in the park near Tattenhoe and we have not received any reports of this nature.

"I have surveyed the reptiles in the area for more than 20 years and I have only ever found evidence of grass snakes in Tattenhoe. The grass snake colony is very well known and well studied. For more information call the trust on 01908 233600."

City centre parking charges increased

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

INCREASED parking charges are now in place in Central Milton Keynes.

On Monday, prices went up from 40p to 50p an hour in standard purple bays, while it increased in red premium spaces from £1.40 to £2.

Other changes include family-friendly spaces near the Santander building for workers to park in after 9.15am – after they have dropped off their kids.

But one worker, who did not wish to be named, said: "I drop my kids off and didn't even know they were bringing these spaces in. In any case, if they were there this morning they were full when I arrived."

Man arrested in High Street raid

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A MAN has been arrested on suspicion of possessing drugs after police raided an address in Two Mile Ash.

Thames Valley Police carried out Misuse of Drugs Warrants at a property in The High Street early last Tuesday morning.

A quantity of suspected drugs were seized at the address, which was opposite Two Mile Ash School.

A 31-year-old man from Milton Keynes was arrested on suspicion of possession of a class C controlled drug and cannabis.

The arrested man has been released on police bail until July 14.

Now a ward councillor for Two Mile Ash, David Lewis, has said he will be 'keeping an eye out' for further drug problems – after telling MK NEWS that residents had been contacting him for weeks regarding drug dealing in the area.

He said: "People were saying there had been problems with people dealing around the shops. I attended the local Neighbourhood Action Group and raised it with police officers.

"It was the first I had heard that there may be a potential drug problem. I will be keeping an eye on it as it's an issue residents have raised."

A sneak preview: How intu Milton Keynes will look

Shopping plans are submitted

INTU Milton Keynes has submitted its planning application to Milton Keynes Council for the redevelopment of the shopping centre.

If approved, there would be a new dining quarter, over two levels, and a five-screen boutique cinema showing blockbuster and alternative films, as well as serving food.

Paul Lancaster, regional centre director at intu, said: "It features flagship retail stores and the best catering quarter in MK."

Relief in Beanhill as Social Atlas scrapped

BY JAMES AVERILL

james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

RESIDENTS of Beanhill are relieved that a league table of estates won't be released – as it usually ranked the area as the worst place to live.

The Social Atlas, compiled by Milton Keynes Council's MK Observatory, was previously released every year to provide a snapshot of each estate in the borough, including indicators like benefit uptake, health and life expectancy.

But this year the report has been scrapped due to lack of people being able to work on the project.

Beanhill had been ranked as the place with 'the most issues' for the last two years.

Sue Smith, of Beanhill Action Group, told MK NEWS: "I'm relieved because every year we have to pick up the residents of Beanhill because self esteem is so low.

"We all get fed up because we think we've got a great community here and every year we get told we're the worst place in the city."

An MK Council spokesman: "The Social Atlas is currently 'on hold' for a number of reasons. There there is a lack of current capacity within the team responsible for delivering it and we are having to prioritise workload."

‘Housing stock at all-time low’

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

HOUSE prices are rising in Milton Keynes as there is not enough stock on the market, one estate agent has told MK NEWS.

Dave Webb, director of Carters Estate Agents, who has 28 years of experience in the industry, said the lack of available houses was the ‘worst he had ever seen’ in the city.

He believes the only way to balance the amount of money buyers are paying for homes is for more people to put their houses on the market. He added the amount of stock that is available is 75 per cent less than he would expect.

“The short supply of property is one of the biggest driving forces combined with all-time-low interest rates,” said Mr Webb.

“We’re seeing the supply of property drying up even further and prospective movers are, therefore, not putting houses on the market so it’s a self-perpetuating circle.

“I’ve been doing this for 28 years and this is the worst I’ve seen it.”

Mr Webb said more house-building would help alleviate the problem but not enough homes were being built quickly enough.

“People need to roll the dice and put their house on the market – if everyone had done that we would see normal stock levels and more balance on prices but realistically, that’s never going to happen.”

As well as a lack of supply, the excellent employment opportunities available in the city is helping drive prices up, as well as people from London buying houses in Milton Keynes.

“This is a country-wide problem and probably more so in Milton Keynes,” said Mr Webb. “There is very good employment here and in comparison to anything further south, even at today’s prices, there is exceptional value for money here.

“A lot of London-based buyers are cashing in.”

Ready: Staff and pupils at Broughton Fields Primary School are set to mark their 10th anniversary

School to celebrate

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

AFTER a year of mourning their beloved deputy head-teacher, students at Broughton Fields Primary School are in for a special treat this week.

After working at the school ever since it opened in 2005, Helen Brazier died from cancer in March 2014, leaving all the children very upset.

Headteacher Nick Hearn wants to make this year exciting as the school celebrates its 10th anniversary and tomorrow the pupils have been promised a 'day they will never forget'.

The surprise has been kept under wraps from the children and a lot of the staff too.

Mr Hearn said: "We have promised the children a day that they will never forget."

Celebrations will kick off today with a special assembly, visit from the outgoing Mayor of Milton Keynes Derek Eastman, followed by a special hog roast for pupils and parents and performances from each class in their very own festival-style event.

Near to the memorial garden created for Helen, the children will bury a time capsule capturing the school's 10 years in pictures and stories.

Mr Hearn added: "Six months of planning is finally coming to fruition.

"Following last year we wanted to get the children really excited and see it as a new phase in the school's life.

"The school started with 48 children and now has more than 420. We have invested thousands into our ICT equipment and continue to develop the school."

■ See what the surprise is tomorrow by visiting www.mkweb.co.uk.

WHY YOU SHOULD BE WORRIED IF YOUR BANK NO LONGER OFFERS YOU FINANCIAL ADVICE

We were recently approached by a lady, Susan, on behalf of her mother, Dorothy, who has been left high and dry by her bank, HSBC's, financial advisory arm who no longer offer financial advice!

Dorothy who is aged 83 and lives locally in Milton Keynes has £230K invested in an HSBC discretionary fund management (DFM) service as well as a further £100K invested in another HSBC DFM which is held in a trust for the benefit of her grandchildren.

What is truly shocking is that she recently visited her branch seeking some advice and was told that HSBC no longer offers financial advice for customers!!!! Dorothy is worried and doesn't know where to turn to for advice.

Her daughter Susan lives in the North West of England. When she found out about her mother's dilemma she immediately did a search on Google and found two useful websites one of which was unbiased.co.uk and the other vouchedfor.co.uk. Unbiased.co.uk is a directory of independent financial advisers whereas vouchedfor.co.uk is a testimonials website for professional advisers. She chose us because she wanted a firm of Chartered Financial Planners with a specialism in investment management and estate planning including Inheritance Tax mitigation. She supplemented her research with checking our website at wealthandtax.co.uk focussing on our many client video testimonials.

Tony Byrne
Financial Planning Director
Wealth And Tax Management

We recently had our first meeting with Dorothy and her son Brian at our offices with Susan joining the meeting on a Skype video call from her living room in the North West of England. The meeting went very well.

We have been asked to produce a Wealth And Tax Management plan for Dorothy to include our proposals for managing her investments, her grandchildren's trust investments and our strategies for protecting her wealth and reducing her Inheritance Tax liability. She has an estate worth more than £1 million. Needless to say we accepted her invitation!

Dorothy and her family are now reassured and looking forward to receiving their plan with confidence.

What I've learned about Alzheimer's

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

ALZHEIMER'S takes your loved ones in one of the most painful ways imaginable – slowly. But it's not all doom and gloom, thanks to organisations like the Alzheimer's Society in Milton Keynes.

My mum Nancy was diagnosed with early on-set dementia just before the age of 60. Young right? But, despite our hurdles, she leads a happy life. Here are seven things I've learned living with her.

Still my mum: Jessica and Nancy Duncan

PATIENCE: Watching the strong, hard-working woman I knew disappear has not been easy. I've found it difficult to be patient. But, with time, I have become better. She is still my mum, her spark, confidence and happiness is still there, she still talks the hind legs off a donkey and sings along to adverts – even if they are rap songs.

AWARENESS: My mum has days when she gets frustrated, but most of the time she is unaware of her deterioration. So, it is our job to help her do things she can no longer do, like shower, dress and cook.

SYMPTOMS: Her eyesight has dramatically declined, which can be a symptom of Alzheimer's, and must be terrifying. By talking to doctors and carers I understand how my mum must see things instead of getting angry.

REASSURING: Each week a different worry will stick in her mind as if she has never spoken about it before. So she repeats it. A lot. Instead of telling her to stop, I repeat the answer until it sticks.

BEING AN EAR: Mum has so many clear memories as if they happened yesterday, about her mum, dad and siblings. But remembering what she did yesterday is not possible. So when she wants to talk, I have learned to listen and let her relive that good memory.

HELP: Due to groups like the Alzheimer's Society, she is often out and about meeting other people and singing old songs, which is great for her memory. Being active is one of the best things dementia sufferers can do. Accepting help can be a challenge but it does not mean you don't care and can be best for them.

KEEP LIVING: There is life after diagnosis! We have bad days, but most of the time Mum is really happy, and talkative. She loves company and is always eager to go out.

The Alzheimer's Society roadshow will take place at the Kingston Centre, Winchester Circle, on Friday from 10am to 4pm.

Former football coach jailed for abusing boy

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A FORMER football coach and scout from Milton Keynes has been jailed for indecently assaulting a young boy.

Barry Bennell, also known as Richard Jones, from Hodge Lea, received a two-year custodial sentence at Chester Crown Court on Friday May 8.

The 61-year-old pleaded guilty to indecently assaulting a boy under the age of 14 and inciting a boy under the age of 14 to commit an act of gross indecency at an earlier hearing.

Bennell was a local football coach in the 1980s and was employed as a scout by football league club Crewe Alexandra.

He also had close links as a coach with former Premier League champions Manchester City and also recommended players to Leeds United and Stoke City. He also coached former Wales midfielder Gary Speed – who tragically committed suicide – when the player was a boy.

The incidents took place over a two-night period at Bennell's home in April 1980.

Historic abuse: Barry Bennell, also known as Richard Jones

The victim – who was 12 at the time – travelled to Macclesfield from his home in Lancashire to attend a soccer skills course.

Bennell, who was 26 at the time, was helping run the course. He had invited the victim to attend after befriending him and his family at a holiday camp in Wales the year before.

The victim was keen to improve his footballing skills and had been excited at the prospect of taking part.

Bennell offered to let the boy stay over at his home for two nights rather than him having to travel back and forth each day. Once the course had finished for the day Bennell returned to his home with the boy. It was there that he indecently assaulted the youngster on two occasions.

The victim did not disclose what happened at the time. In 2013 he reported it at Macclesfield Police Station.

DC Alison Greenwood, who led the investigation, said: "Little did he know that the man he looked up to and admired so much would take advantage of him, abuse his position of trust and treat him in the way he did.

"The victim was too scared to tell anyone what had happened and has had to live with what happened to him for many years.

"He has shown great courage in coming to court to give evidence and relive what happened to him and I hope that the conclusion of this case today will help to bring some closure for him – and help him to rebuild his life."

Sign of the times? The altered signs in Bletchley

Signs changed by 'cat poo crusader'

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A 'CAT poo crusader', on a mission to rid the roads of feline faeces, has been covertly defacing dog foul signs on quiet cul-de-sacs.

The mysterious figure masked the word 'dogs' on one sign before painting over the top to create the line 'clean up after your cats'.

The Milton Keynes Council logo has been masked and the crusader added pointed ears to the silhouette of a dog, to create a more feline-looking offender.

Another sign has been altered to read Cats (Fouling of Lan) Act 1996.

The bizarre act of vandalism – in Baccara Grove and Frensham Drive in Bletchley – has baffled residents since the signs were found to have been altered last week.

A concerned resident, who wished to remain anonymous, believes they know the crusader's identity.

She told MK NEWS: "I think I know who has done this but I am reluctant to confront him. I'm concerned for the welfare of the cats in the road."

Steven keeps up the pace, despite injury

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

A CYCLIST who is trying to ride more than 75,000 miles around the country in a year has hit a major setback – but is still determined to complete the record.

Steven Abraham, from Two Mile Ash, started his challenge shortly after midnight on January 1 and is looking to beat the record set by Tommy Godwin in 1939.

In late March, Mr Abraham, who had to cycle an average of 205 miles a day, collided with a moped near Exeter and broke his ankle.

After completing another 10 miles with the injury, Steven, 40, went to the nearest hospital.

He said: "The body hasn't really done much recently because of the ankle and I can't push it as much as I want it to. It stops me going too hard.

"The injury is a big setback, I was around 2,500 miles ahead of schedule at the time but I'm now about 3,000 miles behind.

"Having a broken ankle makes you tired, but I wanted to get back on the bike and start doing the big rides again."

Back in the saddle: Steven Abraham

Being able to ride with just 'one-and-a-half-legs' Steven has been continuing his record attempt on a ICE recumbent (three wheeled bike) that was specially designed to put all the pressure on the working leg.

He said: "It is made in Britain as we want to keep this as British as possible.

"I rode it one legged for one or two weeks and ICE built a support for my broken ankle.

"I was going round and round The National Bowl in Milton Keynes all day long and I did about 150 laps of it during 10 hour days."

Steve has just recently transferred from the recumbent back to his regular two-wheeled bike and is set to start another concurrent record attempt in order to give himself another chance of reaching his target.

He said: "I have learnt from this attempt and I think I know a better way of how to go about it and it will be good when I get back to full speed."

Enjoy the truly great outdoors at Willen Lake this bank holiday

HUNDREDS of people from all over the UK will be visiting Willen Lake for The Big Outdoor Show.

During the bank holiday weekend (May 23-25) visitors can enjoy a huge array of attractions, including free fall stunt jumping and water sports, as well as meet exotic animals and some famous faces from 9.30am-6.30pm.

The new mayor and mayoress of Milton Keynes will attend the event and formally open the show on Saturday.

The Big Outdoor Show promises to be the go-to event in the region this weekend, offering families and outdoor enthusiasts an amazing choice of adventure pursuits to try, as well as enthralling entertainment to watch.

The newest attraction to be added to the line-up is the very latest in extreme activity – free fall stunt jumping. Thrill-seekers of all ages (minimum age eight) can see what it feels like to free-fall 15m onto a giant airbag.

Other entertainment at the show includes meeting and greeting meerkats and other unusual creatures at The Exotic Animal Encounter. There will be bike, board and scooter action from the Action Sports Tour and M.A.D. mountain bike stunt teams.

Topping the seminar bill will be the legendary Sir Ranulph Fiennes. Joining him on the speaker platform will be other intrepid explorers like Felicity Aston, Mark Wood and Alex Jackson.

Out on the water, Richard Harpham will be inspiring families to plan aquatic adventures, anything from zorbing to stand up paddle boarding.

Willen Lake will be open as normal to members of the public wanting to visit, however some areas will be restricted to ticket owners only.

LET your little ones see the stories of Beatrix Potter come to life with Theatre 4 Kids – The Adventures of Peter Rabbit and Benjamin Bunny at Stantonbury Theatre.

Peter knows very well that he is not to go into Mr McGregor's garden; especially as it was there that his father met his untimely end!

But he cannot resist…and it's only after several nasty scrapes (and minus all his clothes) that he finally escapes home to a severe telling-off from his mother.

But Peter doesn't learn his lesson and with his cousin Benjamin returns to the garden to recover his lost clothing. This time, however, there's more danger on the prowl in the shape of Mr McGregor's cat. Will Benjamin's father come to the rescue in time?

The play on Saturday from 2.30pm is suitable for children aged two and above and lasts about one hour and 25 minutes, including an interval.

Tickets are £13 for adults, £12 for concessions and £48 for family tickets.

Call the box office on 01908 324466.

WOBURN Safari Park's favourite friend Peppa Pig is back by popular demand.

Appearing at Elephant Meadow at intervals throughout the day, fans will have a chance to meet Peppa, get a photo and join the cheeky piggy to listen to her favourite tales during story-time sessions. The park opens from 10am until 6pm with last entry at 5pm. Details at www.woburnsafari.co.uk/events

YOUNGSTERS will be able to go wild at Milton Keynes Museum as half-term starts with a return of its hugely popular Look at Life weekend.

Throughout the weekend free attractions will include microscope safaris, pond dipping for watery mini beasts, a chance to find out about the food chain, fascinating demonstrations and identification and rambles along the nature trail on site.

Next week,the museum is in school holiday mode with a host of extra activities designed to keep your tribe entertained. It is open every day from 11am to 4.30pm. Tickets are £7.50 for adults, £6 for children aged six to 15 and £22 for family tickets of two adults and up to four children.

ANYONE seeking enjoyable, creative activities for children this half-term might find the answer at MK Gallery's art workshop sessions.

They will include leaf printing for under fives, dancing like puppets on invisible strings for over fives and paper-folding and fan-making for families with over sevens. All sessions are free but pre-booking is essential.

The week's fun begins on Tuesday at the regular Under 5s Start the Art session running from 11am-noon. Inspired by MK Gallery's current Ellen Altfest painting exhibition – which includes highly detailed still life paintings of trees and plants – children will take a close look at nature and try out some print-making using leaves and other natural materials.

musicalgreat

THE hills are alive again with the most magical musical in the world, which is coming to Milton Keynes Theatre.

One of the greatest musicals of all time returns to the stage in a magnificent new production to enchant and enthral audiences of all ages.

The Sound of Music tells the true story of the world-famous singing family, from their romantic beginnings and search for happiness, to their thrilling escape to freedom as Austria becomes part of the Third Reich at the start of the Second World War.

Playing the iconic role of Maria is Danielle Hope, who won BBC1's Over the Rainbow and made her professional debut as Dorothy in The Wizard of Oz at the London Palladium. Danielle is joined by Olivier Award-nominated actor Steven Houghton, who is well-known for Coronation Street and London's Burning, who will star as Captain von Trapp.

This new production of the classic stage musical coincides with the 50th anniversary of the film version, the best loved and most successful movie musical in history.

See it in Milton Keynes from Tuesday to Saturday, May 30. Tickets at www.atgtickets.com

inremembrance

THIS May experience an evening of new compositions, music and film inspired by the First World War.

Living Archive has been working with musician Steven McDaniel, young talented songwriters, musicians and film makers to commission new works inspired by the war stories held by Living Archive.

This six-month project builds on the previous work of the Living Archive Band and new music, songs and films will be screened and performed live at MK Gallery's Event Space by this talented ensemble of performers on Friday, May 29 from 7pm.

Inspired by the diaries, letters and images of people in this area during the war, this one-off performance will provide a space for people to celebrate and reflect on the people, lives and poignant and powerful stories that are still relevant today.

Steven said: "It is wonderful to work with such a passionate group of young people and great that Living Archive has given them this opportunity to work together and perform live."

This project is just one of a series of projects funded through Great War MK by the Heritage Lottery Fund.

SUMMER is finally here encouraging plants to grow well, along with fruit and flowers – but where these grow, so do weeds!

DON'T let weeds compete with your plants, writes JAMES FROST, managing director of Frost's Garden Centre in Woburn Sands

Ensure you are keeping these down, either by hand weeding or spraying, to avoid competition with your garden plants for food and moisture.

It is critical to conserve water via collection points and mulching the ground to reduce water loss.

Salad crops and early potatoes will become ready later in the month and can be harvested as required – continue to sow salads, carrots and beetroot for successive harvestings into the autumn.

Early flowering perennials can be cut back to reshoot, or in the case of euphorbia remove the flowering stems back at the base.

If you haven't already done so, caryopteris, penstemon and hardy fuchsia can all be cut back early in the month for flowering later in summer.

Shrubs which require pruning straight after flowering to keep them compact and performing well are deutzia, kplkwitizia, weigela and philadelphus. Remove flowering wood and some of the older stems in mature plants

June is the month to sow plants for flowering next spring such as wallflower, pansy, viola, bellis daisy and primula.

What Your Agent Has To Say

Introducing The Caring Agent

Kathryn Mountcastle Properties has recently opened providing a personal and caring style of estate agency to anyone looking to sell their home in Milton Keynes and the villages. Owned by Kathryn, a prominent local agent for over 20 years, with the highest level of customer care and superior marketing. Coupled with a personal and supportive service, Kathryn believes the key to her success is that you will deal with her or her business partner Craig directly throughout the selling process.Kathryn supports vendors attentively throughout, giving a sales success rate of 90%.

To launch her estate agency, Kathryn's fees will be just 0.5% with no restrictive contract which she is offering on a sole or multi basis and with no minimum fee.

Kathryn explains, "Why should people with fast selling houses and owners of larger properties be penalised with a high commission fee especially at this time when property is selling very quickly in Milton Keynes!"

Kathryn Mountcastle Properties offers a complete, caring, full estate agency service, with all aspects as standard, no expensive add-ons, or upfront fees. Of course, no sale no fee, and viewings are always accompanied providing security and reassurance for vendors. Likewise, this also offers support and assistance for the buyers. Furthermore, Kathryn's attention to the legal process, an area so often overlooked, is exemplary. If you are thinking of selling or simply might like some friendly free advice, give Kathryn a call or email her at:

What is the crucial element your agency needs to be successful?
Calls to value a property...

What is the main reason a person makes 'That Call?'
Branding...

Within the property sector we know the importance of brand, brand message and brand exposure has on the decision making process of a perspective vendor or landlord.

Be it 'Direct' or 'Subliminal', branding is the key driver for potential customers when deciding which 3 agents [The national average] they call to appraise their property.

We also know that regardless of your political view point the Conservative majority victory last week and the eradication of a 'New' coalition will bring stability and confidence to the market.

Julian Berry | 07800 534395 | julian.berry@localworld.co.uk

This will undoubtedly result in an increase of new instructions entering the market.

It is now imperative to put your brand in front of as many of these perspective clients as possible so you can benefit from this very welcome late spring uplift to the market.

How can we help?

At MK Web we have a substantial array of Traditional Online, Social Media and Offline Print products to promote your brand, both creatively and as you can see from our audience statistics, reaching the widest possible audience of 'Active' customers prior to them making 'that call'.

Our team here are experts in digital and print marketing and will be able to advise and partner with you to plan a campaign to fully utilise this opportunity.

What Our Customers Say About Us At The MK News...

We've exceeded all expectations, targets and forecasts in an extremely competitive marked with dozens of well established companies all targeting the same pool of potential clients.

WOULD YOU ADAM & EVE IT?

Vauxhall ADAM Rocks Air

Ten Second Review

The Vauxhall ADAM Rocks Air is a car that doesn't take itself too seriously and is the perfect antidote to the usual boring superminis. With jacked-up body styling and a sliding soft top roof, this car is at its best with the turbocharged 1.0-litre three-cylinder engine.

BACKGROUND

It's genuinely hard to know where to start with this one, but we really ought to get the name out of the way first. The Vauxhall ADAM Rocks Air must go down as one of the strangest car names since the Japanese discovered Google Translate and stopped sending us Pantry Boy Supremes and Giga Light Dumps. But what is this thing?

If you hadn't noticed, Vauxhall has tried to claim a share of the niche small car market occupied by the likes of the Fiat 500 or the Citroen DS3. The trouble is, the ADAM is somewhat hampered by a badge that smacks of Luton rather than Turin and sales have been slow. The ADAM Rocks Air is a soft-top version styled with offroad-style design cues. We're still trying to get our heads round that one too.

DRIVING EXPERIENCE

The ADAM Rocks Air is available with a choice of three engines. The 70PS 1.2-litre engine and the 87PS 1.4-litre engine we've seen before and very serviceable units they are. Of more interest is the introduction of a 1.0-litre three-cylinder powerplant, good for 115PS thanks to its turbocharger. It's the first Vauxhall to get this engine, which is the mainstay of the fourth generation Corsa range. When plumbed into the open-topped ADAM, it's capable of getting to 62mph in under 10 seconds. Unlike most three-cylinder units, it's been designed to offer excellent refinement, with the characteristic warble of a three-pot only really audible when you mash the throttle. With 170Nm available at just 1,800rpm, it's a more relaxing engine than you'd imagine, albeit with a slightly elastic feel to the throttle response.

The Rocks Air model adds another 15mm to the stock ADAM's ride height. This isn't going to equip you to tackle the Dakar Rally, as underneath it's still the same front-wheel drive chassis architecture, but Vauxhall has done a thorough job in retuning the springs, shocks and roll bars. Therefore this Rocks Air version still corners well and ride quality isn't bad either. In fact, you'd be hard pushed to feel much in the way of difference. Ease of use on urban roads is enhanced by a CITY mode, which increases the electronic power steering system's assistance at lower speeds.

Odd name, interesting car. The Vauxhall ADAM is a city car with attitude.

Andy Enright reports

DESIGN AND BUILD

Believe the press bumf and you might get excited that Vauxhall has created something genuinely good and original. Read between the lines a little and you might suspect that the parts that are good are not original, and the parts that are original aren't that good. Does the market need a soft-top faux-by-four? Didn't automotive evolution kill this genre off at least ten years ago, with most of us hoping it would never be resurrected?

That said, Mark Adams' team has done a good job in the styling of this car. What sounds utterly ludicrous on paper works surprisingly well in the metal, with strong lines and a lovely chutzpah to its design. The allroad-style wheelarches work well with the 'floating' roof which is visually disconnected from the body. The electric folding canvas roof is operated via a button located in the front area of the headliner and folds back neatly on to the C-pillars in just seven seconds. The roof can be opened or closed while the car is moving at up to 85mph. The boot keeps the full opening of a hatchback and loading volume remains untouched. The entire roof module is acoustically tuned for noise insulation inside the cabin and the robust, three-layer fabric has a neoprene centre for weatherproofing and durability. The folding canvas roof is available in a choice of two exterior colours - Black or Sweet Coffee.

MARKET AND MODEL

The ADAM Rocks Air ensures that it's not going to freeze you on cold winter mornings. It's the only vehicle in its class to offer the comfort of a heated steering wheel, driver and front passenger seats. Other interesting items of standard equipment include a Hill Start Assist which maintains the brake function for about two seconds after the driver has taken his/her foot off the brake pedal. This prevents ROCKS AIR from rolling back when starting on a slope or, when driving off from traffic lights or a parking spot on a hill.

The standard infotainment equipment is a CD 3.0 BT system, with radio and a MP3/WMA compatible CD player featuring Bluetooth and USB connections, as well as a hands-free function. The tuner can be combined with DAB digital radio, offered as standard, for a broad choice of listening options. There is an Infinity sound system that's sure to be a popular upgrade for £300. This features eight speakers and a total of 315 watts with two tweeters, two front subwoofers, two rear wide band speakers, one mid-frequency range speaker and the sub-woofer box located in the trunk. An IntelliLink infotainment system is priced from £275, allowing seamless integration of Android as well as Apple iOS smartphone functionalities into the car. And yes, it does work with Siri.

COST OF OWNERSHIP

Go for the 1.2-litre petrol engine and you'll see economy figures of 53.3mpg with emissions of 125g/km. The 1.4-litre powerplant offers up another 17PS with very little efficiency penalty, netting 52.3mpg and 126g/km. The star of the show is the 1.0-litre turbo unit which gets the best economy at 55.4mpg, the lowest emissions at 119g/km and is comfortably the quickest and most refined to boot. A 38-litre fuel tank rather caps the range a little, but the ADAM was never designed to be a GT car.

SUMMARY

As car enthusiasts, we tend to be drawn towards all that is authentic and worthy and have a healthy scepticism for anything that looks like marketing puff. On that basis, we ought to abhor the Vauxhall ADAM Rocks Air. Nobody needs a convertible that plays at being a 4x4 supermini. It appears to be the work of a rather desperate marketing department playing catch up. Despite these initial suspicions, the car emerges as something surprisingly likeable. Don't take it too seriously and it's a vehicle that has a lot going for it. It looks interesting, it's well equipped and that 1.0-litre engine is a belter.

Perhaps at times we're guilty of overanalysing; taking things a little too seriously. The Vauxhall ADAM Rocks Air is the perfect antidote to this tendency. It's a car that wryly pokes fun of the typical car anorak. Life's serious enough as it is. If we all bought on rational grounds, we'd probably all be driving Golfs. Here's a car that celebrates a little irrationality. More power to it.

Introducing The New BMW 3 Series Saloon And Tourer

The BMW 3 Series has been a sales phenomenon, with 14 million cars sold since production began with the E21 model in 1975. During that time the model has defined the premium sports saloon segment with today around a quarter of all BMWs sold coming from the 3 Series range.

The new 3 Series Saloon and Touring models receive a subtle evolution to their front and rear styling, with new materials and highlights introduced to the interior to even further boost the sporting yet comfortable ambience.

Under the bonnet, the majority of engines are completely new and hail from the latest modular BMW EfficientDynamics engine family, with standout models such as the new three-cylinder 318i, the 326hp 340i, the 99g/km 320dED and the 335d with 630Nm of torque. With further advancements to gearboxes, chassis dynamics and personalisation options, plus a huge array of advanced technology such as the new optional BMW Professional Navigation, the new BMW 3 Series is better equipped than ever before to continue the legend.

The new BMW 3 Series has a strikingly attractive presence on the road. The distinctively sculpted long bonnet and setback passenger compartment combine with short front and rear overhangs, and a long wheelbase, to create the familiar dynamic proportions of a BMW. In its own way, these are as much a hallmark of a BMW as the perfect 50:50 weight distribution.

Revised headlights include optional LED units with LED indicators now positioned as "eyebrows" above the headlights. These full-LED headlights, which are even more efficient than the xenon headlights offered to date, work with the optional BMW Selective Beam system. The camera-based, anti-dazzle High Beam Assistant adjusts the car's lights using actuators to ensure the road is illuminated as well as possible without dazzling oncoming traffic and vehicles travelling ahead.

In addition, the "eyes" of the BMW 3 Series have moved further apart, visually strengthening the car's broad stance on the road. In cars with standard specification lighting, the headlights are joined by two LED daytime driving light units on each side. These light strips highlight the hallmark BMW twin headlight arrangement and link the headlight units with the traditional BMW kidney grille.

At the front, broader side air intakes are integrated into the sculptural form of the bumpers. The new, more intricate structure of the central air intake also allows the radar sensor for the Active Cruise Control (ACC) to be housed more discreetly. At the rear, the new rear lights are full-LED units. The light bars, arranged in a distinctive BMW "L" shape, are more heavily curved, and the integrated LED brake lights now respond faster. The two-piece LED indicators form a horizontal band of light across both sections of the rear lights and stretch into the boot lid (or the tailgate on the BMW 3 Series Touring).

The driver focus inside the new BMW 3 Series is a signature BMW feature and provides optimum access to all the important functions. The outstanding ergonomics of the BMW 3 Series have been improved further still and in addition, carefully arranged chrome highlights and high-gloss surfaces give the interior an even classier look.

Offered as an alternative to standard specification, the Sport and Luxury models place an emphasis on different aspects of the new BMW 3 Series' character. The M Sport model offers additional options designed to further increase road presence and driving enjoyment.

The BMW M3 also gains the new full-LED rear lights and updates to the interior. The latest-generation Professional Navigation system with LTE – the fastest mobile standard currently available – is standard for this model, while two new BMW Individual exterior colour shades (Smoked Topaz metallic and Champagne Quartz metallic) are available in addition to the exclusive Tanzanite Blue metallic and Azurite Schwarz metallic BMW Individual paint finishes.

The new BMW 3 Series Saloon and Touring ranges feature a total of four petrol engines and seven diesel engines. All the three, four and six-cylinder petrol engines, and the four-cylinder diesel units in the BMW 316d, BMW 318d and BMW 320d, are now sourced from the newly developed, modular BMW EfficientDynamics engine family and are equipped with the latest BMW TwinPower Turbo technology, which combines exceptional performance with excellent fuel efficiency. Overall, customers can choose from a total of 16 exterior colours with the new BMW 3 Series Saloon and Touring models which go on sale in July. Prices will be announced at a later date.

The stars of the future

MK COMMUNITY Foundation awarded four of the city's most talented athletes with bursaries this week in recognition of their sporting excellence in partnership with MK Sporting Lunch Club and SportsAid.

The lucky bursary winners met Graham Gooch OBE DL, former England cricket captain and international cricketing legend.

More than 300 people watched badminton players Harry Arksey and Fee Teng Liew, wakeboarder Charlotte Harbottle and Arsenal footballer Leah Williamson each receive a £2,000 bursary to help develop their sporting career.

The money will contribute towards competition and coaching fees, purchasing new equipment and travel expenses.

This is part of MK Community Foundation's continuing commitment to local sports, having granted over £92,500 to sports clubs in the past year.

Bart Gamber, director of programmes, said: "Many of the UK's top athletes have been helped by SportsAid and local charities. We fund our city's young athletes because we believe with the right support they have the skills and dedication to represent MK on the international stage in years to come."

Charlotte Harbottle, one of MK's talented junior wakeboarders said: "It really does make a big difference and without this money I wouldn't be able to compete across the world, thank you for all your support."

She was unable to attend the lunch at the Jury's Inn as she was sitting her GCSEs.

Jewel in the crown coming up

Monaco: Daniel Ricciardo is looking forward to the weekend

THE jewel in the crown is often the name given to the Monaco Grand Prix and it's not hard to see why as the sport returns to the principality this weekend.

Red Bull have struggled so far this year, with Daniel Ricciardo amassing 25 points so far and newcomer Daniil Kvyat picking up just five points from the opening five Grand Prix of the season.

Their task is unlikely to get any easier when they head to Monaco but Ricciardo says he relishes the track as racing there is more about the driver than the car.

"The best thing about coming to Monaco is that it's a circuit where the driver has more influence on events," said Ricciardo, who now lives in Monaco.

"Driving a Formula One car anywhere is special – the speed, the power and the acceleration just blows you away – but here it's like trying to do a lap in a supermarket, and that's just so, so cool.

"You can't afford mistakes, your concentration levels rocket and you tend to amaze yourself with how quickly you manage to do everything.

"Just completing a lap feels like an achievement."

A mistake from Lewis Hamilton or Nico Rosberg - the all-conquering Mercedes drivers - looks like the only way in which any other drivers could even gain points at the moment as the pair look set to dominate the championship once again this season.

Those two are understandably full of confidence at the moment and Kvyat says confidence is an important factor going into the Monaco Grand Prix.

"It's a real 'confidence' circuit," said Kvyat.

"You need to be in tune with it. You need to find yourself, find the flow, you need to find the right approach mentally and with the car and then you just have to make it happen.

"To go out and find that confidence is not easy and you always question yourself, asking 'when is it going to happen, when am I going to feel it enough to really go for it?'

"But at some point in the weekend it just happens, you find the rhythm and the lap time comes."

The race begins on Sunday at 1pm.

Narrow loss for Wolverton in Cherwell League

WOLVERTON Town lost by just one wicket against Leighton Buzzard Town in the Cherwell Cricket League Division One.

Wolverton were bowled out for 118 in the first innings but Zaheer Khan and Idrees Butt claimed a four-wicket haul each to get Leighton Buzzard on the rack. However, they just about held onto their last wicket to claim a one-wicket success.

Anton De Beer scored 82 and Mark Nelson notched up 50 as Great Brickhill posted 273-7 in the first innings and five wickets from George Humphries helped secure a 68-run victory for them over Cumnor.

In Division Four, Bletchley Town lost to Tiddington Seconds by 138 runs.

In the Northamptonshire Cricket League, Stony Stratford's Alex Strong and Kamran Anwar picked up four wickets apiece against Peterborough Town.

But their hosts were able to score 242-8 in the first innings thanks to David Clarke's 88 and 69 by Asim Butt.

In reply, Stony's Ben Duckett top-scored with 32 as the visitors were bowled out for 99, which sealed a 143-run defeat.

In the Four Counties League, North Crawley won again against Milton Keynes City by nine wickets.

City were dismissed for 100 and an unbeaten 63 from Matt Goss helped North Crawley reach their target with the loss of just one wicket.

It was a closely fought encounter between Milton Keynes and New City (Milton Keynes) which ended up in a draw.

David Garner scored 81 for Milton Keynes and Neil Gordon struck an impressive 110 in the first innings as they scored 263-5.

But New City clung on for a draw largely thanks to a knock of 50 from Dharmesh Mistry as they scored 181-9.

New Bradwell were bowled all out for 112 in their tie against Elstow, who were dismissed for 211 in the first innings.

The Rugby World Cup pack assembles at stadiummk

MORE than 4,000 members of The Pack, the 6,000 volunteers that will help welcome visitors to England and Cardiff during the Rugby World Cup 2015, joined together in Milton Keynes on Monday to kick off the tournament's volunteer training programme.

The event, hosted by broadcaster John Inverdale at stadiummk – one of the 13 Rugby World Cup 2015 match venues – is the only time The Pack will be together in one location before city and venue-specific training starts next month.

Those in attendance spent the day learning more about their roles in The Pack, the tournament and what makes a Rugby World Cup special from some of the sport's greats, including Bill Beaumont, Jason Leonard, Lawrence Dallaglio, Serge Betsen and Shane Williams.

Two Rugby World Cup winners, Will Greenwood and Maggie Alphonsi, also joined the day and unveiled the volunteer uniform alongside members of The Pack. The design, which reflects the Rugby World Cup 2015 colour palette, will ensure that members will stand out from the crowd on matchdays and become recognisable tournament figures to fans and players alike.

Realisation sinks in for Dons

MANAGER Karl Robinson says he didn't realise the pressure the team was under to get promoted until after the feat was achieved.

It was just over two weeks ago when Dons won promotion to the Championship on a day which will live long in the memory of any fan.

It is an achievement which Dons have been hunting for years, with Robinson himself winning promotion at his fifth attempt, and the realisation of what has happened is now beginning to sink in at the club.

"I didn't realise how much pressure we were under probably only until now," said Robinson. "My agent keeps telling me I had no choice this year. I did say five years and I did what I said. I just want to do my job and be the best I can possibly be.

"Hopefully I can succeed in pushing this football club forward now.

"Everyone is extremely tired – that buzz has gone a bit now but we're looking forward to the summer and we'll come back fresher than before."

Preparation work for next season has already begun at the club, as the pitch at stadiummk has been relaid.

Head groundsman Joe Aylett says the pitch needs as much time as possible to bed in, and with the Rugby World Cup coming to Milton Keynes in October, the turf at stadiummk will be more important than ever next season.

The first friendly of the 2015-16 season has also been organised as Dons will travel to Chesham United, who play in the Evo-Stik Southern Premier League.

The game will take place at The Meadow on Monday, July 20 and kick-off is still to be confirmed.

On the transfer front it has been a quiet week with no activity reported over the last seven days.

Rumours are circulating that a permanent bid has been put in to Bolton Wanderers for Rob Hall but nothing has been confirmed on that front as of yet, while no announcements of contract extensions for players has yet been forthcoming.

The rumour mill has also been going north of the border with reports that Robinson turned down the chance to manage Scottish giants Rangers. Stuart McCall is in charge of the Ibrox club at the moment - the same man who got the Sheffield United job after Robinson was linked with that post.

Defender Brendan Galloway became the first Dons academy product to play in the Premier League on Saturday after he started for Everton at Upton Park against West Ham United. The 19-year-old played the full 90 minutes of the tie as Everton won 2-1 and he told the Toffees' website that he was delighted to have made his debut for the team in Liverpool.

He said: "I worked hard in training this week but I didn't expect to be given the nod, but when I did I was really happy."

Dons will know all 23 teams they are playing next season by the end of Bank Holiday Monday. The Premier League season ends this Sunday as Hull City, Newcastle United and Sunderland battle to avoid the drop to the Championship. The League One playoff final between Preston North End and Swindon Town will also take place on Sunday and the following day, Middlesbrough and Norwich City will contest the Championship playoff final.
